

AID-TO-BRITAIN BILL CURBS ARE GIVEN APPROVAL

House Committee Reported to Have Accepted Three Amendments

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Three amendments to the administration's British-aid bill, including a mid-1943 time limit on its grant of presidential powers, were reported to have been voted today by the house foreign affairs committee.

Meeting behind closed doors while Secretary of War Stimson testified before the senate foreign relations committee, the house foreign group was reported to have accepted modifications to: Fix June 30, 1943, as the expiration date of the lend-lease powers proposed in the legislation. Require President Roosevelt to consult his Army and Navy chiefs before transferring military equipment, and Require periodic reports to congress on lease-lend operations. Chairman Bloom (D-NY) and other committee members declined, however, to make any formal announcement of the committee's action in the four-hour session. All three of the reported changes had been accepted by the Democratic majority yesterday.

A fourth change proposed by the Democrats—a prohibition against the use of naval vessels for convoys—was reported to be still under discussion.

U. S. To Buy Time
Stimson testified before the senators that the objective of the bill was a purchase of the "time necessary to arm and protect ourselves."

He asserted that the help in war supplies envisioned by the bill eventually would "enable Great Britain to do what military men call 'take the initiative'."

The United States is forced to buy the time, he declared, "and we are buying time from the only nation which can sell us that time."

Appearing before the senate foreign relations committee, the war department chief renewed his advocacy of the legislation to meet "the extraordinary emergency which the aggressor nations have created for this country."

In a formal statement he marshaled his additional arguments for the bill under these headings:

That Great Britain, given help, was in a position to prevail;

That the axis powers were vulnerable in many respects;

That international law justified, rather than forbids, full aid to Britain, and

That the bill is not dictatorial, but gives the proper action of a democratic government.

Amendments Studied
While the senate committee listened to Stimson, the house foreign affairs committee began a study of proposed amendments to the measure in hopes of getting it in final shape by tomorrow night.

Under questioning, however, Stimson said he personally was "strongly opposed" to amending the administration's British aid bill prohibiting the use of American naval vessels to convoy war shipments.

"No one can tell what will happen in the course of this war which is going on in Europe today and getting nearer and nearer, in its effects, to this country every day," Stimson said.

As commander in chief of the army and navy, he added, the president has the power to direct movements of the navy. The secretary added:

Curb "Unfortunate"
"I think that for the congress now to introduce a provision which, even if only by implication, sought to fetter a power which has existed in the president for 150 years would be a very unfortunate thing."

"You would have no doubt," asked Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) "that if convoys were begun we would be in the war?"

"I have no such assurance," Stimson replied. "It's all speculation."

Stimson added he would have "no objection" to amending the legislation to require the president to make periodical reports to congress on the progress of British aid and to provide a definite expiration date for the program. LaFollette, referring to another section of the bill giving the president authority to purchase arms and other war materials produced in foreign nations, asked:

"Under this provision, could we finance the whole British war effort by buying their production and leasing or lending it back to them?"

"That's an assumption that never entered my less intelligent head, Senator," the witness replied.

Stimson, in his testimony, predicted that Britain would face a

Near Billion and Half Provided in House Supply Bill

BULLETIN

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Senate passed and sent to President Roosevelt today a $909,000,000 authorization for expanding naval construction facilities and building 400 new small craft for the navy.

Previously passed by the House, the bill would authorize $400,000,000 for building the 400 small craft, including submarine chasers and minesweepers; $315,000,000 to provide equipment and facilities for government and private ship-building plants; and $194,000,000 for expansion of facilities manufacturing armor plate, munitions and ordnance material for the navy.

The Senate approved the bill exactly as it passed the House, in order to speed final action. Congress must later appropriate the funds authorized.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—An "independent offices" supply bill totaling $1,404,576,838 and including a new emergency fund of $125,000,000 to be spent at the discretion of President Roosevelt was recommended today to the house by its appropriations committee.

The measure provides money to operate such independent federal agencies as the Maritime Commission during the fiscal year beginning July 1. It made relatively few reductions in so-called non-defense expenditures, possibly because, as committee members expressly noted, most agencies reported defense significance in their activities.

The total of the bill was $146,000,000 greater than was last year's appropriation for similar purposes. The committee said this was due chiefly to the inclusion of the president's emergency fund.

A similar fund was set up last session and Roosevelt has used it for numerous purposes including the start of construction on air-naval sites acquired from the British.

Suggestion Made
In approving his request for a new emergency fund of $100,000,000 in cash and $25,000,000 in contractual authority, the committee said it had no desire to "hamper or obstruct" his use of the money, but "it feels very strongly that it should be reserved for use in connection with items which are unusually emergent in character, which are of prime importance to our national defense and which require immediate action on the part of the chief executive."

"During hearings on the bill," the report said, "the attention of the committee was called to allocation."

"Mighty Matt", Cop Who Became One of Greatest of Olympic Stars, Dies

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—"Mighty Matt," the cop who came out of Tipperary at the turn of the century to become one of the greatest Olympic athletes of all time, died today.

On the records he was Police Inspector Matthew J. McGrath, 61, weight between 225 and 250, winner of 21 national championships in weight-throwing. To the little Chicago orphan boy he adopted several years ago he was an Olympic god. To vicious criminals he was "the law." To sports followers he was "Mighty Matt," who could throw the ball and hammer like most of us would toss a football.

In 1913, he won a citation for subduing a killer who had taken refuge in river barge. McGrath hid behind a pile of bricks on the

TREASURY HEAD ASKS FOR DEBT LIMIT INCREASE

Borrowing Power Will Be Exhausted Soon, Secretary Says

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury would run out of borrowing powers in four months, and appealed for an increase in the federal debt limit from $49,000,000,000 to $65,000,000,000.

Testifying in support of a bill to make the increase, the treasury head told the house ways and means committee that the department had plans for sale of "securities attractive to all classes of investors x x x to satisfy the overwhelming desire on the part of nearly every man, woman and child to make some direct and tangible contribution to the national defense."

Although not describing these securities in detail, he said the bill would permit the treasury to issue small denomination savings bonds and savings certificates as well as the regular types of securities. Treasury officials previously had indicated consideration of $5-bonds and 25-cent savings stamps.

On January 1, Morgenthau said, the treasury had used up all but $887,000,000 of its $45,000,000,000 general borrowing power and all but $2,764,000,000 of its special defense borrowing authority.

Necessitated by Defense
"These combined balances (of borrowing authority)," he continued, "provide the treasury with borrowing authority sufficient only for the next four months, and even in that period we would be greatly restricted in our financial operations."

Morgenthau said the debt limit increase was necessitated by the $28,500,000,000 defense program outlined in President Roosevelt's recent budget. He made no mention, however, of additional borrowing which might be necessitated if congress passes the administration's bill for aid to Britain.

A major objective of his borrowing program, the secretary explained, would be to sell securities to the general public rather than banks, because "it is highly desirable to avoid further increases of deposits as far as possible." The Federal Reserve System recently said bank purchases of government securities tended to increase bank deposits.

"In times such as these," Morgenthau said, "it is imperative that the government borrow as much as possible from real savers rather than from banks."

Morgenthau also said the defense program gave an additional argument for his repeated request, contained in the pending bill to remove all federal tax exemptions from future federal securities.

East Moline, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The 1400 employees of the East Moline plant of the International Harvester Company, who had been on strike since Jan. 16, because of labor differences, returned to work today without incident.

The independent union workers voted Sunday to return to their jobs and negotiate their differences.

Benton, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Bank of Benton was lawfully "cracked" last night. The vault combination failed to function properly yesterday and the door could not be opened. From the second floor of the bank building drillers bored a hole in the top of the vault last night so a locksmith could enter the vault and open the door from the inside.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(AP)—An outbreak of German measles at this Army air base on Long Island prompted officers today to quarantine the entire field and place 3,000 fliers and ground workers under strict observation.

A partial quarantine was invoked Saturday, but an increase in cases to about 15 or 20 caused the general quarantine.

Hubby's Place

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—All married men in Springfield's selective service district No. 2 will be granted draft deferments regardless of the economic status of their wives.

The district board last night ruled that a husband's place was with his family and decided to grant flat deferments "until such time as the nation requires the field service of men who are married."

The board's ruling said "it was agreed that the best interests of the community, the state, the nation and the home requires the presence of a husband with his family and this irrespective of dependency. The very foundation of a democracy depends upon a strong family life and this is served best only when the husband and wife remain under the same roof."

State selective service officials said some local boards had held that some married men whose wives were self-supporting were eligible for the draft.

REVISION STATE PAROLE SYSTEM IS URGED AGAIN

Two Bills to That End Among Those Given General Assembly

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A long campaign to revise the Illinois parole system by allowing Criminal court judges to fix minimum and maximum sentences was revived in the legislature today. Minimum sentence bills were introduced in the Senate by Senator Harold G. Ward (D-Chicago) and in the House by Rep. Fred W. Rennie (R-Buda), the majority leader.

Also filed in the House was the first bill of the new legislative session to tax the Illinois oil industry. Sponsored by Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna), the bill would levy a five cents per barrel tax on all oil produced in the state, the estimated $7,000,000 a year proceeds to be earmarked for old age pensions.

In the Senate, Senator Richard J. Daley, (D-Chicago) filed a bill to cut the three-day notice provision of the Illinois marriage law to one day.

The Ward-Rennie bills would authorize courts to fix the minimum and maximum sentences imposed for all crimes except murder, rape, treason and kidnapping when fixed sentences are imposed under law.

Discretion to release prisoners between the minimum and maximum limits set for their terms would be left with the parole board.

The minimum sentence proposal, sponsored in former sessions by Ward and Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg, was drawn by a committee headed by Frank J. Loesch, president and president emeritus of the Chicago Crime Commission.

Horner Voted Bill

Defeated in the 1935 session of the legislature, the bill passed both Houses in 1937 and was vetoed by the late Governor Henry Horner. It failed of passage in the 1939 session by a single vote in the House.

Senator Daley said his amendment to the marriage law would require only one visit to the County Clerk by persons intending to wed, instead of two necessary under present law.

Now, notice of intention to wed must be filed with the County Clerk three days before issuance of a marriage license. The Daley bill proposed that a certificate of physical examination be authority for issuance of the license, one day after issuance of such a certificate.

Another provision of the bill introduced today would be a counter-signature plan for medical certificates. The applicant for marriage license would sign the certificate in the presence of the examining physician and would counter-sign it in the presence of the County Clerk when obtaining the license.

This provision, Daley said, would guard against fraudulent use of health certificates.

Would Tax Betting

The assembly today also considered the first proposals laid before it for obtaining additional state revenue—two bills to tax pari-mutuel betting at Illinois race tracks. One bill, its sponsor said, would provide an additional $1,250,000 annually.

Among 98 other measures introduced yesterday were bills to create a motion picture censorship board of three members which would regulate showing of all films in the state, and to impose severe penalties for activities which would hinder or delay national defense preparations.

One of the bills to tax horse race betting was introduced by Senator John W. Fribley (D-Pana), who said his proposal to levy a five per cent tax on gross race track wagers would increase state revenues by $1,250,000 annually.

Would Reduce Licenses
Senator Fribley's measure would reduce present daily track license fees, now ranging as high as $2,500 per racing day at some tracks, to a flat $50 daily fee.

The other betting tax proposal

Federal Inquiry in Illinois Last Polls Under Way

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Civil Service Commission disclosed today through published hearings on the independent offices appropriation bill that two investigations are under way into alleged Hatch act violations in Illinois.

The Hatch act prohibits political activity by certain federal employees.

Cecil E. Custer, finance, budget and planning officer for the commission, told a house appropriations sub-committee that a preliminary investigation of the Illinois state highway department on charges of pernicious political activity by several employees "indicates the possibility of a long and costly proceeding in which the commission may very likely have to work with the department of justice in investigation and possible prosecutions under both the criminal sections of the political activity law."

An investigation of several employees of the Chicago Sanitary District, Custer added, "suggests the possibility of litigation."

Custer did not expand on the sanitary district case other than to say that "on the basis of current information, several employees of this organization were recently active politically in connection with elections in Chicago."

700 Federal Employees' Expenses in Florida Last Winter Paid by Gov't.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(AP)—More than 700 federal employees visited Florida at government expense last winter, the General Accounting Office reported.

In testimony made public today, GAO officials told an appropriations sub-committee of the house that a report on "Florida travel" had been made to Representative Taber (R-NY), ranking minority member of the appropriations committee.

Asked by Representative Dirksen (R-Ill.) if the accounting office knew of any "abuses" in connection with the government's travel allowances, Audit Chief E. W. Bell replied:

"At this time I cannot think of anything other than some of the cases in the report made on Florida travel. We made a report on employees traveling to Florida between Nov. 15, 1939, and March 1, 1940. That covered all departments and establishments."

"Did they find a lot of business in Florida at that time of the year?" asked Representative Houston (D-Kan.).

"There were over seven hundred names on the list," Bell replied.

British Tighten Grip on Beleaguered Derna: "Free French" Threaten

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

There is no reason to look with undue suspicion at the fascist disclosure that Italy and Germany are extending their economic and military cooperation in preparation for an effort to drive the British from the Mediterranean by assaults in Africa and against Greece—all this being preliminary to an attempted invasion of England itself.

Such frankness about military plans does, of course, rather savor of the stage magician who exhibits his sleeves to prove that he has nothing concealed. Still, that program is logical enough (if we allow for a fair amount of window dressing), and we mustn't overlook this important fact:

This information about the hand-in-glove closeness of the axis partners is intended more for the consumption of the people of Italy than for the benefit of the outside world. It is further indication that Rome is pretty feverish and that Doctor Hitler is trying to keep the temperature down.

So far as the military threat goes, Britain should welcome that. As I have indicated before, the chief weapon which Hitler can bring into operation is air power, and this will tend to weaken his aerial offensive against England. That is a dangerous experiment for it will give the Britons a chance to get set for the projected nazi invasion. Therefore it will be strange if Hitler goes very far in drawing on the resources of his western front.

The axis partners likely will stage offensives in the Mediterranean, but they must certainly do so with the knowledge that so far as Italy's African empire is concerned, they are trying to close the barn door after the horse has escaped. What is left of Marshal Graziani's once great Libyan army is shattered and incapable of a serious offensive even if it is rescued.

Air power alone can't do Graziani much good at this late stage. For that matter, nothing has happened thus far in the war to demonstrate that warplanes have any mysterious power over surface warships, and British navy experts claim they have little fear that the axis can smash a hole in the British blockade which has cut Italy's African colonies off from supplies and reinforcements.

The sensational drive of a Free French camel corps from Chad across burning desert into southwestern Libya to capture the strategic oasis of Fezzan from the fascists is a sensational contribution to the African warfare. It adds to Graziani's already overwhelming worries by opening up a new front against him. However, to my mind the moral effect of this operation far exceeds the military value at this juncture.

As regards Albania, I think the Greeks will encounter some hard knocks when the spring comes, unless the British are able to reinforce them heavily meantime. At this critical juncture, Greece has lost one of her chief towers of strength in the death of Dictator General Metaxas.

"Little John" Metaxas was a military genius, trained in the German war college and with much experience on the battle

13 Men Stay Aboard Wrecked Army Vessel

Ketchikan, Alaska, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Undaunted by a tempest and towering waves, 13 men remained today aboard the U. S. Army transport Kvichak, wrecked on rocks off the British Columbia coast, awaiting the arrival of tugs dispatched to salvage what they might of the army supplies aboard.

The transport, bound from Seattle for Alaska, ran aground in heavy seas late Monday night. At least one seaman—one report said four—drowned as life boats were launched which carried passengers and others of the crew to safety ashore.

The U. S. S. gunboat Charleston, flagship of the navy's Alaskan contingent, went to the scene of the wreck, and was due in Ketchikan today with the 23 passengers and 24 crewmen rescued from the Kvichak.

Report British Advance

Meanwhile, on another African front—2,000 miles southeast of Derna—British supported by native troops were reported to have driven halfway across Eritrea, closing in on Agordat and Barentu.

A Greek government spokesman said two Italian counter-attacks near Klisura, Albania, were repulsed yesterday, with the Greeks inflicting "heavy losses" and taking 70 prisoners.

Bad weather again curtailed the cross-channel operations of the German and the British air forces last night. Some German air activity—apparently a mine-laying

DIXON CLUBWOMEN SPONSOR SUCCESSFUL CONCERT FOR AID OF BRITON REFUGEES

Approximately 400 concert-goers delighted in an opportunity to hear what many critics have acclaimed as one of the most skillful recitalists on any concert stage, last evening, when Mme. Gladys Gildroy Scott, English contralto, sang in the Loveland Community House auditorium. And while she was singing, she was doing nearly $100 worth of work for British war relief, for it is to aid the Britons that this English-born artist, has been donating her services in a series of concerts, during the past few weeks.

Last evening's program was sponsored by members of the Dixon Woman's club, and it was the clubwomen's president, Mrs. Earl Auman, who introduced Mme. Scott to her audience. Mrs. Auman also informed the audience that Miss June Larson, assistant piano instructor at Frances Shimer college would provide accompaniments for the singer, whose regular accompanist, Miss Karan Tuck Hoffman, is ill. And, in the opinion of those listening to the program, Miss Larson gave an admirable performance at the keyboard.

Early in her program, Mme. Scott established a warm personal relationship between herself and her audience, through her thoughtfully-chosen songs and occasional informal comments. The singer proved herself an artist of excellent ability and musicianship, gifted not only with a voice of exceptional power and range, but with the ability to use it to the best artistic purpose in everything she undertakes. Her songs are presented with an evident pleasure, and she projects the matter and mood with a beauty and sincerity which are memorable.

Her songs ranged from the typically Spanish "La Partida", to the lyric mood of "Chere Nuit", "Sea Moods" and "The Dreaming Lake", to the humor and charm of "The Huckleberry" and the "Leezie Lindsay" ballad, to the downright jollity of the "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes."

Mme. Scott closed her program with the chorus of the stirring march song, "There'll Always Be an England," the song which has run through the air-raid shelters of England during the past year.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and repudiated by those who surrender to the passions of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Un-Huddling the Government

Bitter are the lessons being written in blood across Europe today—and woe to him who will not learn them!

One of them seems to be this: there is danger in too great centralization. That is: If all your government offices are huddled in one small area, all your steel works huddled in another, all your auto and munitions plants in another, all your boat-building facilities in another, so much greater the chance of a single crippling blow by some overwhelming bombing raid. That country is best off whose productive facilities are so scattered that a whole series of successful blows might not necessarily cripple it.

The war has centered attention on decentralization. New powder, plane, and munitions plants are being built in remote places which had hitherto been without great industries, even without great populations. And this at a time when the tide of people flocking to the cities seems to have reversed itself and for the first time the census figures show an increase in the rural population.

But against this tide swims government. The population of Washington has grown 36 per cent since 1930, a rate of increase exceeded only by Miami and San Diego. It has slopped over its limits, and Arlington county, across the Potomac in Virginia, is the fast-growing county in the United States. Office buildings cannot be built fast enough to hold the bulging bureaus; rents skyrocketed.

One answer has been proposed by Representative Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. He has introduced into the House a resolution which would call for moving many government bureaus bodily from Washington to other cities. Even allowing for Dirksen's probable direct interest in getting some of them for Chicago or for his native Pekin district, maybe this is worth thinking about.

Dirksen argues that $100,000,000 was spent last year by officials in travel from Washington to other places where government business was being done; that many of the functions of government, like social security, railroad control of various kinds, census bureau, housing and home loan work, maritime controls, WPA, CCC, veterans' work, and agricultural aid, could just as efficiently and perhaps more economically be discharged in other parts of the country.

Does too great a concentration of the nation's life work for safety pass through Washington? New York? Chicago? Detroit? Ought we to begin thinking seriously of doing something about it?

They Trusted a Dictator

Fritz Thyssen, German industrialist who helped Hitler to achieve power in Germany, is now in the hands of the German gestapo, having been arrested in France, according to reports.

Thyssen's wealth and influence helped Hitler. He believed Hitler was going to do wonders for Germany. He remained in the reich long after Hitler came into his present position, but he could not stomach Hitler's methods and intentions. He resisted and ran away to escape arrest.

Thyssen is not the only person who trusted Hitler and was disillusioned. The reich is full of bankrupt or fugitive industrialists who helped Hitler to power and then found themselves ground to pieces along with the poor and the middle class in a dictatorship.

A man who seeks dictatorial powers to override laws designed for the protection of the people puts himself under a cloud of suspicion at the beginning. The demand for extraordinary authority indicates that the man who makes the demands wants to do certain things; that he has found himself unable to do them by co-operation with the people's representatives, and means to do them without that co-operation and without the restraints of ordinary law.

There is not a dictatorship in the world, including Russia's, where the people who helped the dictator in the beginning were not punished for that help in the end.

When the Normal Is Notable

Some of our contemporaries seem to have gotten into quite a state because a 28-year-old oil company employee joined the army the other day in New York, volunteering before his draft time came.

His name happened to be Winthrop Rockefeller, and he happened to be one of the heirs-apparent to one of the greatest fortunes in the country. He did the same admirable thing that thousands of other young Americans are doing; a step no less admirable because it was done on his part with less chance of sacrifice than in many other cases.

The interesting thing about this was that anyone should think it remarkable. Is not young Rockefeller an American? Have we not decided that all eligible Americans should render military service to their country?

There should be nothing remarkable about the fact that a singularly fortunate young American decided to accept, casually and good-humoredly, his plain duty. It would be a bad day for the country if this perfectly normal thing should become regarded as a phenomenon.

Although I have preached pacifism all my life, I am convinced now for the first time that freedom cannot be preserved without military struggle.—Bertrand Russell, British philosopher and author.

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Jan. 28 — The cheerful tip has been passed to the White House by congressional leaders that the lease-lend bill will lose no more than twenty votes in the senate and have a majority of more than 100 in the house—after its most objectionable features are patched with amendments. This is what Senate Leader Barkley and Speaker Rayburn have told the boss. Yet they are scared.

Incoming mail from the people is worrying all their boys who will vote. Democratic legislators from Missouri and many parts of the south are disturbed because they have received so little. The big opposition names, Nye, Wheeler, Ham Fish and Ludlow claim to be dragging in the fan approval—and apparently are. Then, too, many friends of the measure are writing in to inquire gently if the bill means war. Popular worry over the great powers granted the president is also evident in the mail bag.

None of these things now looks strong enough to upset the official calculations, but the Roosevelt counselors have ordered the time schedule speeded (hearings held in the senate simultaneous with the house) just to make sure.

Leddown in explosions, fires, and suspected sabotage lately tends to justify FBI claims that Hitler does not have much of a wrecking squad in the United States, or is not working what he has. You will remember the flurry of suspected sabotage some months ago was officially attributed to inefficiencies of operation and individual monkey-wrench throwing by Commies playing the Hitler game. Either the FBI lend-lease debate is over, and the general impression here is that the FBI was right.

You must have guessed the significance behind Roosevelt's grand show for Lord Halifax. It was acted out according to a prearranged script for precisely the same world effect that Hitler has been trying to get by running down to Brenner every once in a while to buzz mysteriously with his ailing ally, Mussolini.

Colonel Lindbergh is so thoroughly hated in the administration that both he and his acquaintances tried to avoid meeting old friends in the government during his recent trip here. They feared it would prejudice the positions of government workers. One whom he definitely avoided was Lt. Col. Truman Smith, army air officer, whom he knew in Berlin.

Roosevelt is not trying to be coy by saying he knows whom he will appoint to the Supreme court, but cannot let it out for a long time. He just invented this little personal mystery game to keep the candidates off his neck while he is engrossed in defense.

The public was never aware of it, but some of the recent appointments were preceded by inside campaigns as hot as a political ruckus, and all the heat descended on Roosevelt. The campaign in behalf of Justice Douglas hit midsummer temperature. Most of the strokes was done without his consent. He was doubtful whether he wanted the job. But bar associations, organizations, and individuals in all parts of the country were organized into wiring by Western Union and political grapevine. At that time a counter-campaign was started in behalf of Circuit Judge Harold Stephens of Washington, D. C.

Whether Roosevelt has really made up his mind is something only he knows. Echoes around the White House claim he promised Attorney General Jackson the next appointment sometime back. Less pretentious gossip in the New Deal gives Jackson a definite promise of the chief justiceship when Hughes retires, probably in June.

The appointment will not make much difference anyway. Roosevelt's appointments so far have given him an unshakable majority, not only of the Supreme court, but of all the subsidiary circuit courts except two. The judiciary is in line.

This is probably the reason Conservative Justice McReynolds retired obstinate resistance to the new judicial era.

BLITZ ON GREAT BRITAIN LIKELY IN FOUR MONTHS

Experts Believe Nazis Have 36,000 Planes Ready for Attack

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—Hitler's grand-slam bid to invade England can be expected in April or May, well-informed sources here now believe, and there will be 36,000 warplanes ready to hammer home the terrific Nazi onslaught.

They gave the Luftwaffe a 4-to-1 advantage over the R. A. F. for the attempt. They looked for a variety of German surprises, among them a secretly developed new pursuit ship and perhaps large scale use of torpedo planes against surface vessels. And they did not rule out poison gas.

Two of this nation's foremost military authorities, however, voiced their confidence yesterday that Great Britain would survive to win a final victory.

General George C. Marshall, Army Chief of Staff, said he believed that, given the American help contemplated under the lease-lend program, Britain would be victorious. He saw all signs indicating a supreme invasion attempt in the spring.

Much closer to the actual theatre of conflict, Admiral William D. Leahy, former Chief of Naval Operations and now ambassador to France, declared at Vichy that in his opinion "the British government can and will prosecute the present war to a successful conclusion."

The comment of these two officers happened to coincide with the preview invasion picture presented by other sources.

One British Advantage

These sources said that Germany could put 18,000 fighters and bombers in the air and have another 18,000 in reserve with 100 per cent pilot replacements.

They based their expectation of a new model pursuit ship on the "suspicious circumstance" that the latest type now being used by the Luftwaffe dates back to 1937.

If the titanic air struggle materializes, they said, the R. A. F. would have one advantage in its ability to mass its strength over a limited area, but the Germans would be favored by the concentration of targets in England.

The largest number of German planes used against England at one time, available information indicates, was less than 2,000. Some military men believe that to put 18,000 planes in the air would require an enormous number of airports and at the same time create a staggering traffic problem in co-ordinating the take-off of planes with the landings of those returning for fuel or ammunition.

Deaths

Local—

D. PHIL RAYMOND

Daniel Phillip Raymond, 43, died very suddenly this morning at about 1:30 o'clock at the Katharine Shaw Bethea hospital, where he had been a patient for the past ten days. On Jan. 17, when alighting from his car at his home, 706 Brinton avenue, he slipped and fell on the ice. The following day when a physician was consulted, an x-ray examination revealed a fractured pelvic bone and he was taken to the hospital. His condition was not considered serious and he appeared to be well on the road to an early recovery, when an embolism apparently caused his sudden death.

D. Phil Raymond was the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Raymond, and was born in South Dixon township, July 31, 1887. When a small boy he came with his parents to Dixon where he has since resided. He attended the public and high schools of this city and upon his graduation, entered Knox college at Galesburg. Upon completion of his college studies he returned to Dixon and became associated with his father in the retail coal business on Brinton avenue, which he has conducted since his father's death. Surviving are his widow, an aunt, and hosts of friends who were shocked with the word of his sudden death.

Fraternally, he was a member of Friendship lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M. of Nachusa Chapter, No. 56, R. A. M. and he was a Past Exalted Ruler of Dixon lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. Elks. He was also a very active member of the First Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the Rev. Herbert J. Doran, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating, and burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial park.

An inquest was scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Preston funeral home, where the body has been taken. It will be taken home at 9 a. m. Friday.

WIN BOWLING AWARD

The Williams DeSoto Keglers of Dixon won the reward given by The Dixon Evening Telegraph to the team which scores the highest game of any recorded in the Tuesday bowling pages. The local keggers counted 1089 in the past week to win 10 free lines on their home alleys. The Potlatch Five of Paw Paw was second with 1050. The Williams quintet counted the score in the third game of their match last week when Williams rolled 212, Hill 178, Melvin 203, Wolfe 232 and Worley 180.

BELVIDERE LOSES

Belvidere's varsity cagers lost their tenth in 18 games last night at Woodstock, 37 to 33. Schuett led the vanquished Boone county team with 10 points. The Belvidere sophomores won the preliminary game 21-17.

IT WILL BE A SELL-OUT

According to reports from Springfield there are still plenty of good seats left in the game with the Dixon cagers on Friday night at the Coliseum. Principal B. J. Frazer of Dixon has received a limited block of tickets for high school students only. Due to the arrangements of the Coliseum, which are not the best in the world for large crowds of fans, it is reported that local spectators will be given every consideration in an effort to give them an equal chance for good seats along with Sterlingites. There is certain to be a packed house and it is planned to accommodate everyone to the best of the officials' ability.

INDEPENDENT CAGE GAMES TONIGHT

The state hospital basketball team will be hosts to Victor Potts' cagers in a "practice" game on the colony court tonight. The Knacks will go to Rochelle for league competition where they meet the K. of C. team. They will leave the Soda Grill at 6:45 p. m.

FROM GRID STAR TO SOLDIER

Ronald Reagan, "Dixon's own movie star," who will be remembered for that swell performance as George Gipp in the Knute Rockne picture, gets another athletic role—this time as a horse-riding leader in the filming of his own story, "The Cavalry Rides Again." Several studios put in a bid for the scenario efforts of Reagan, following Warner Bros. announcement of the purchase of his story. As a result he is penning another "yarn," also of a military background, which he hopes to complete while "between pictures." Reagan's scenario efforts will be confined, the actor says, to attempts to furnish material for his own vehicles. However, there is going to be little time for writing—he is too much in demand as an actor. Reagan began his career only a few years ago in Hollywood and has climbed rapidly on the ladder of success. Recently he was elevated to stardom by the Warner Bros. company. In Dixon "Dutch" was a life guard for many years at Lowell park beach.

TWO ROCK RIVER LOOP CLUBS LOSE TO "OUTSIDERS"

Two Rock River conference teams, Mt. Morris and Polo, found the going tough outside their own circuit last night as each bowed on alien courts.

The Mounters lost to Stillman Valley of the Route 72 loop, 33 to 27, and Leaf River, Route 72 conference tournament champions nosed out the Polo Marcos in a thrilling overtime, 34 to 31.

In the Mounters' game the Valley lads trailed 11 to 12 at the half but came back to outscore the visitors, 22 to 15, in the last two frames.

High scorer of the game was Norem of the winners with 22 points. Mt. Morris won the lightweight game, 20 to 15.

At Leaf River the new Route 72 titleholders came back to score three points in an overtime while holding their Rock River foe to a goose egg.

The Leafers scored an 11 to 8 lead in the opening period and led 19 to 10 at the half before Polo came back with 21 points in the last two periods to 12 by the Leafers.

In the lightweight contest Polo won, 37 to 32, and the Leaf River graders won from the Mt. Morris graders, 16 to 11.

There were 53 deaths from drowning in the U. S. navy in 1930.

In five games, an average of more than 14 and a half points a game... This is a remarkable performance in view of the fact that he has played only about 75 per cent of the time, fouling out of three games... No Big Ten team has averaged as high as 667 on free throws. Northwestern's lowly Wildcats coming the closest.

During 1930, 30,405 airplane tires and 27,192 airplane inner tubes were manufactured. The total value of the tires and tubes was $649,784.

Today's Guest Star

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Mike Kelly, who is to Minneapolis what C. Mack is to our town, says modern ball players are pampered and petted too much... They're even going to the extreme of taking them into the army so the umpires can't nag them."

Odds and Ends

Ernie Smith, star tackle for the Green Bay Packers, has been acting as rope marshall in some of the open golf tournaments on the coast... He says breaking a golf gallery is worse than trying to crash the Chicago Bears line... Tommy Harmon at last has a radio hour—out of Detroit every Saturday morning... Tommy has 200 hours on the air to his credit since the football season, which is why the academics at Michigan are hollering—or whatever learned gentlemen do... The real reason why Maxie Baer doesn't care whether he fights or not is that he has $200,000 tucked away in annuities and will start drawing $1,000 a month any day now.

Willie Hoppe Begins Long Grind to Retain His Title as Nation's Cue Champion

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Aspirants to the world's three-cushion billiards championship today knew the worst—Willie Hoppe still is the wizard of old and the man to beat in the current battle.

The finest players in the world have been competing during the past two weeks in the title tournament while Hoppe was recuperating from an attack of influenza and pneumonia.

Last night began defense of the championship, although still a bit weak and pale. But the other players and a packed house of spectators saw he had the "old touch," regained in three days of practice.

Undetermined Number of Soldiers Hurt in Train Accident Today
Saudersville, Miss., Jan. 29.—(AP)—An undetermined number of recently mobilized Indiana National Guardsmen were hurt about noon today when a troop train overturned on the main line of the Southern Railway a mile north of here.
The train was one of several special carrying units of the 38th division to Camp Shelby at Hattiesburg, Miss., for intensive training.
First reports were that no soldiers were killed but ambulances from nearby Laurel and Hattiesburg were rushing dozens of injured to the Camp Shelby hospital, about 35 miles south.
Miss Dannie Perkins, manager of the Sandersville drug store, said six cars of the train turned over along with the locomotive and that a seventh car was left in a leaning position.
A number of the soldiers were said to have suffered broken bones and an unverified report said that A. V. Smith, fireman on the train, was killed.

sortie was reported off the British west coast but London which was under prolonged attack yesterday, had its ninth raidless night. There was a brief alert in the capital this morning.
In Bremen, Grand Admiral Raeder, German fleet commander, told dock workers the Nazi navy had destroyed 6,300,000 tons of British shipping in the war.
In the Far East, Japanese troops were said to have violated a September agreement between Japan and French Indo-China by occupying the market town of Haidong, 35 miles east of the capital, Hanoi, and directly on the road to Haiphong, the region's chief seaport.
Japanese troopships also were reported off the southern coast of Indo-China.
Although fighting was reported to have continued along the disputed border between Indo-China and Thailand for three hours after an armistice became effective yesterday, peace negotiations were expected to go ahead as scheduled today at Saigon, with Japan in the role of mediator.

Revision State

was advanced by Sen. Simon E. Lantz (R.-Conserve), who proposed a levy of two and one-half per cent on gross wages and the elimination of daily truck license fees.
Under the Lantz bill, the amount paid in state racing license fees at present would be added to purses offered at each track. This, the sponsor said, would attract to Illinois the country's best racing stock. The increase in revenue estimate under the Lantz bill was $750,000 a year.

cations from emergency funds for activities which were not so intimately connected with national defense that a specific appropriation could not have been requested from congress in the usual way.
The report did not specify what those allocations were.
In addition to the new emergency fund, the committee also recommended appropriation of $100,000,000 to liquidate contractual obligations incurred last year by the president in connection with war and navy department emergency activities.
Among other major increases recommended the committee listed $15,000,000 for the Maritime Commission; $8,674,892 for the selective service system; $4,800,000 to the Tennessee Valley Authority; $5,000,000 for defense activities of the Civil Service Commission, and $2,401,910 for the National Advisory committee for aeronautics.
The major decreases listed included $34,005,240 lopped from the Federal Works Agency; $305,000 in foreign service pay adjustment; $480,000 from the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Commission and $175,000 as a result of the expiration of the Maritime Labor Board.
The committee recommended the full budget estimate of $160,000,000 to replenish the Maritime Commission's ship construction fund, plus contractual authorizations totaling $180,000,000. The latter is required, the committee said, to enable the commission to resume its regular program of 50 ships a year, starting July 1.
In order to fulfill the commission's current program, the committee continued, it is contemplated that 20 additional ships will be contracted for during the balance of the current fiscal year, which will bring to 200 the total number of ships contracted for under the commissions 10-year program.
At the same time, the committee recommended a special appropriation of $175,000,000 for the war department to finance advance purchases of clothing and equipment for the army.
This was done, the committee explained, to enable the department to plan its purchases beyond the end of the present fiscal year on June 30.
A little more than an hour after receiving the recommendation, the house approved it.

Aid-to-Britain

crisis this spring and summer. If she survives, he said, "the probability of an ultimate solution in favor of the democracies would be overwhelming."
"The passage of this bill," he interjected, "will go far to stir the morale necessary for her to survive that crisis."
Hear Creaks of Strain
Speaking of axis "vulnerability," Stimson said that "Italy is already in serious straits," and that the German army "is spread out very thin and already in Italy and in Rumania and in Norway we begin to hear the creaks of the strain under which German power is laboring."
The Japanese army, he continued, was spread out even thinner than the German, and the country was economically strained.
If Britain survives the next several months, he said, "the axis powers cannot indefinitely hold even the European world in slavery" for they would be without seapower and the control of the air would be against them.
Cites Legal Decision
Turning to the legal questions, Stimson cited the action of the International Law Association in interpreting the Kellogg-Briand pact. The association held that if one signatory to the pact were attacked by another, the other signatories, without any breach of international law, may come to the aid of the attacked nation with money, supplies and even armed forces. He pointed out that the axis nations, as well as the United States and Britain signed this pact.
Congress, he said, would be exercising its powers by establishing the national policies in the present situation. "But congress," he added, "can neither consider nor decide each and every transaction that may be necessary successfully to execute these policies." That required executive action, and Stimson said he could conceive of no more appropriate person for that responsibility than President Roosevelt.
To Take Initiative
Under questioning, Stimson said that an expected spring crisis in the German-British war "does not mean that Germany will be able to terminate the war immediately."
"A crisis probably will exist for some time to come," he said. "Our great material help will come later to enable Great Britain to do what military men call 'take the initiative.'"
"The most dangerous position a nation can be in is to be purely on the defense. Most of our aid will come the latter part of the year or in 1942."
Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) read a published report that the army had contracted for 4,500,000 of what he called "casualty tags" which would be used in identifying men killed or wounded in battle.
"Isn't that total a little beyond your present needs?" Vandenberg asked.
Stimson said he was not familiar with the contract, but that he would look into it.
To Vandenberg's suggestion that the bill he amended to list the countries which receive American aid, Stimson replied that the war abroad moves with such dramatic quickness it (such an amendment) might cause embarrassment.
"Do you think, for instance, that congress now would write in a provision for aid to certain portions of North Africa?" Stimson asked. "Yet that might be vital."
He did not elaborate.

District Meeting of "Mun" League Held in Freeport

Proposed legislation affecting municipalities throughout northern Illinois was discussed at a meeting of the northern district of the Illinois Municipal League at Freeport last evening. Mayor William V. Slothower of Dixon, president of the district organization, presided and several members of the Dixon city council were present. There were more than 50 representatives of northern Illinois cities and villages holding membership in the League present.
Three principal legislative subjects were discussed at length. The municipalities are seeking additional authority in the expenditure of the cities' share of the motor fuel tax to permit the improvement of secondary streets, and this subject brought the unanimous approval of municipalities represented. Emphasis was also stressed on the subject of securing the return of home rule to municipalities in Illinois and opposing the centralization of power in the state government.
Some cities less fortunate than Dixon, suggested the passage of a bill which will provide increased municipal income to permit the payment of salaries of police and firemen, which have been increased under a state law. In Dixon the increase was anticipated and provisions were made in the appropriation ordinance to meet the increase when the law became effective. Another proposed Municipal League sponsored bill which was discussed, provides for the annexation of suburbs.
O. F. Goeke, district engineer of the Dixon district, department of highways addressed the meeting, explaining the military highway system. He also outlined the proposed modernization of the Lincoln Highway which is opposed by several municipalities because of the new routings.
President Otto Hudson of the Mt. Morris village board invited the delegates to hold their spring meeting in Mt. Morris in March. The Freeport meeting was held in the Germania club where a luncheon was served at 6:30 o'clock. Present from Dixon were Mayor Slothower, Commissioners Cal G. Tyler, Joe E. Valle, Carl Newman, City Clerk Wayne C. Smith, City Attorney Gerald Jones and O. F. Goeke.

People's Column

MR. JONES REPLIES
Editor—Ordinarily, it is not good practice to answer the complaints of disgruntled persons who air their troubles in public. However, so many misrepresentations were made in an article appearing in your issue of January 28th, signed by "Secretary, Dixon Local 525, American Federation of Musicians" that the same cannot go unanswered.
The author states that for the past five years Dixon musicians have been asked to play for the President's Birthday Ball and have gladly contributed their services. That statement is not true. The undersigned has employed and paid for the services of all musicians since the inauguration of the event, with the exception of the first two years when Frank J. Gorham and Dudley Friedline, Dixon musicians, organized an orchestra of local musicians to play for the ball. Their services were donated and, contrary to the experience we have had during the past five years, their music was good. Since that time we have employed a local orchestra and paid them for their services. Last year we paid this orchestra the same money we are paying the out-of-town orchestra this year. Furthermore, the price we are paying for music this year is the same amount asked by the local orchestra this year.
There is only one reason why a local orchestra was not employed this year. Their music has not been satisfactory to the patrons of the dance during the past few years. We have known this all along but have continued to hire them because they were local musicians. However, there were so many inquiries about the music

Big Farm Show

The big farm show, sponsored by Miller Brothers and the McCormick-Deering Company, was a very great success. The event was held at the high school gym on Saturday evening, January 25. The program drew about 600 persons to the local gym for the show. A very fine program was presented. Don Jacks and his musical five, formerly WLS entertainers, the Parker Brothers, well known musical comedy stars, and Miss Annette Arde, a very clever and fine dancing star furnished very fine entertainment. Along with these fine acts interesting moving pictures were shown.

Prizes were given at the program and the following received the useful articles: Chester Schorr, a set of spark plugs; Leonard Rosette, a long handled shovel; Mrs. William Ganz, a pie dish; Miss Lois Tarr, a baking dish; Guy Schoenholt, an oil can; Mrs. Myrtle Rogers, a Valentine box of candy; and Arthur Wells, Jr., received a toy tractor.

All in all this program was perhaps the finest free entertainment ever given in Paw Paw. Those that attended went away hoping more such fine times may be given in the future.

Baptist Missionary Society

The Ladies' Baptist Missionary society met at the church parlors on Tuesday afternoon for a regular meeting. Regular business was taken care of and a program was presented. Mrs. Will Smith was in charge of the day's affairs. The topic considered at the meeting was "Westward The Land Is Bright". Farewell Party

A big farewell party was given in honor of Lester Politsch on Thursday evening. The event was held at the E. P. Zuber home. Politsch will soon leave for training in the army. The evening was spent in playing cards and at the close very delicious refreshments were served. Those present for the occasion were, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zuber, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Niebergall, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Chaland, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cooke, and family, all of near Paw Paw. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Krenz of Mendota, Mr. and Mrs. William Wetzel of Rollo, Miss Bonnie Lawn and Bill Wells of Shabbona and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Poltsch of Sublette.

Miss Breese Gives Talk

Miss Eulalia Breese gave a most interesting talk on pitchers before the Community club of Shabbona on Saturday afternoon. Collecting pitchers is the hobby of Mrs. Frank Wheeler and Mrs. I. H. Breese attended the meeting.

Personals

Mrs. S. R. Dickie entertained the members of the Contract club Thursday evening. Refreshments were served after the games.

Vernadine, Bobby and Junior Brewer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Brewer are ill with the scarlet fever. All hope for a speedy recovery.

NEW WARDENS TO BE DRAWN FROM ELIGIBLES LIST

Gov. Green Gives Word to Delegation of Sportsmen

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Governor Dwight H. Green last night promised a delegation of sportsmen protesting the recent discharge of 147 state game wardens that replacements would be made from civil service lists.

The governor made the pledge in a move to settle a controversy between leaders of sportsmen's clubs and his newly-appointed conservation director, Livingston E. Osborne, who dismissed the 147 game wardens last week a few days before 108 of them were scheduled to be given civil service rating after passing examinations. At the same time, Green said in a statement that there was evidence some of the discharged wardens had violated civil service regulations and warned that "action will be taken against those who are at fault."

Director Osborne conferred yesterday with the sportsmen's delegation and W. Emery Lancaster, chairman of the state Civil Service Commission. Lancaster reiterated a previous statement that he would refuse to approve salaries for seven temporary wardens hired without approval of the Civil Service Commission after the dismissal of the 147 regular agents.

Myers Satisfied
H. Ray Myers of Decatur, president of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, who charged the new conservation director with a "disposition to ignore civil service," expressed satisfaction with Governor Green's statement.

The governor said that Osborne had found that "a number of game wardens were holding down private jobs and giving little or no time to their state duties."

"It was Osborne's contention," the governor's statement continued, "that he should be allowed to hire temporary emergency employees pending an investigation of replacements who might be drawn from the eligible civil service lists."

"I am asking Mr. Osborne to draw future replacements in his department from the list which I am told has been made eligible by the examinations. He has given me clear indication of the evidence he has against discharged employees and if this evidence is supported, charges against them will be filed."

Also attending the conference with Osborne and Lancaster were other Sportsmen's Federation officers including C. H. Skinner of Olney, vice president; Royal B. McClelland of Champaign, secretary; William T. Lodge of Monticello, executive secretary; Carl M. Myers, Cook and Lake counties district representative; Kenneth A. Reid of Chicago, executive secretary of the Izaak Walton League of America, Inc.; L. H. Barkhausen of Chicago, state chairman of Ducks Unlimited, and Jacob Pech of Grays Lake, president of the Associated Conservation Organizations of Illinois.

26th. Convention of IAA Begins in St. Louis Today

St. Louis, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The 70,000-member Illinois Agricultural Association, one of the largest state organizations of farmers in the nation, opened its 26th annual convention today with reports on its multi-million-dollar activities.

Meetings and conferences of the 11 associated cooperatives and companies began the three-day program. The Illinois Producers' Creameries, one of the cooperatives, reported it had made 6,429,055 pounds of butter valued at $1,837,000 in 1940.

The Farmers Mutual Reinsurance Company, a cooperative writing fire, windstorm and growing crop hail insurance, closed the year with $250,582,692 insurance in force. The Illinois Agricultural Mutual Insurance Company, another cooperative, reported its admitted assets reached $2,619,750.

Proposed legislation for the benefit of dairymen in the 1941 session of the state legislature was among the subjects discussed at the meeting of the Illinois Milk Producers' Association, a federation of 23 cooperative milk marketing groups.

Wilfred Shaw of Chicago, IAA director of milk marketing, told delegates more than 1,750,000,000 pounds of milk with a value of $30,483,889 was sold through Illinois cooperative marketing agencies last year.

4,000 Expected
About 4,000 Illinois farmers and their families were expected at the convention to discuss problems facing agriculture.

Administration of federal agencies and programs, efficiency and economy in state government, new trends in cooperative marketing and the relation of agriculture to the national defense program were among the topics slated for attention.

Earl C. Smith of Detroit, Pike county, will deliver his 15th annual address as president of the association tomorrow morning and Gov. Dwight H. Green will speak tomorrow night.

Today was a big day for rural youth people, with a "talk fest," including entries of 20 district winners, and a "talent night" on the program.

Youth was encouraged by Dr. Robert Graham, chief of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois, to study veterinary science as a life career.
